

PORTABLE ROOM PARTITION

Low profile portable room partition to aid in social distancing

To help support social distancing and provide an additional level of protection for both employees and customers, Total Plastics has developed a low profile, portable partition ideally suited for environments where an optional barrier may be necessary or requested. The partitions can be quickly and easily moved into place to provide protection in a business environment, such as a restaurant, where social distancing isn't always feasible or may be optional.

The dual panel frame on our portable room partition provides customers the ability to customize their partitions to fit decor, match branding or to be used in promotion. Our portable room partition includes four 2-inch casters with a locking option, making it easy to move across hard surfaces or carpeted floors and lock into place to prevent movement.
